

HEALTHCARE IN BUTLER COUNTY, OHIO

The Cincinnati – Dayton region has a long and distinguished history in medicine and healthcare and continues this tradition into the 21st century in patient care, research, and innovation. Some of the medical firsts in the region include:

- The first oral polio vaccine developed by Dr. Albert Sabin
- The first medical laser laboratory established by Dr. Leon Goldman
- The first heart-lung machine
- The first hip replacement
- The first emergency medicine residency program
- The first bachelor's degree program in nursing
- The Heimlich Maneuver to prevent choking by Dr. Henry Heimlich
- One of the world's largest surgically-oriented vascular laboratories
- Nationally recognized transplant program for heart, lung, liver, pancreas, and kidney
- World-renown children's hospital that is first in pediatric surgeries and third in National Institute of Health research funding

*Expansion Management Magazine* ranked the State of Ohio 7th best out of the 50 states for employer health care costs based on health insurance costs, provider visits costs, health care facilities, health care providers, and malpractice costs.
